The Proper Time for Conciliation

The burden of much sympathizing complaint, just now, is that the Government shows no desire to make peace with traitors in arms—as if the responsibility of the war was not justly upon those who made it, and continue its prosecution. When the military power of the rebellion is thoroughly broken down, the door of conciliation may be opened wide. Then will come the opportunity to show the magnanimity of generous conquerors—to prove to the South that the nation is as ready to pardon as it is determined and terrible to punish, and that we can be as good and faithful friends in peace as we have been stern and inflexible enemies in conflict. No high minded patriot desires to trample on a fallen foe, and any attempt to push the war beyond its legitimate and necessary bounds will be repudiated by an overwhelming public indignation. But while the war is raging, our business is with the sword alone. We cannot use it too earnestly—we cannot strike too severely. The shortest road to peace goes directly through the smoke and blood and slaughter of the battle field. The nation's foe refuses to notice any arguments but those of cannon and bayonets. Even the welfare of the States that are arrayed in rebellion not less than our own requires on our part the most vigorous and energetic prosecution of the war which is possible. In no other course can prudence or safety or mercy lead. There is no kindness in protracting agony by dilatory schemes.

The only question now before the country is how shall the war be most successfully waged—how shall it most speedily be brought to a triumphant and lasting vindication of national power and integrity? Till this is accomplished, all other issues are in abeyance—till this is effectually completed we must use every means in our power and devote our whole, our untiring energies to this single and simple end. Whatever obstructs it, must yield or be beaten down. We can safely dismiss all concern for other matters—all anxiety as to the mode of governing the South after victory—all care for its peculiar institutions, and all solicitude about questions which may arise in the future. The patient must be cured, and the seeds of disease thoroughly eradicated before we vex ourselves in discussions as to the manner of providing for his livelihood after health is restored. If the rebellion gains the mastery—if the South achieves its independence, all our vexation and our quarrels over fictitious issues will be in vain—we shall hardly have a country or a Government worth supporting or maintaining; but if the rebellion is crushed, conciliation must follow submission as surely as light follows sunrise, and the difficult political problems that have grown out of the war, will for the most part, successfully work out their own salvation.

SENATOR McDOUGAL.—Castine, the Washington correspondent of the Union, has the following on that "noble and dignified" Senator:

> Night before last the sound of music and laughter attracted many idlers into a drinking saloon of one of the principal Washington hotels, and the curious bystanders could see a ring formed around a band of wandering musicians, to whose lively strains a small gray-headed man was dancing a comic jig, to the amusement of the ring. His antics and gestures were such as might make an angel weep, for it was plain that he was intoxicated, and those whose laugh cheered him on pitied while they scoffed. As a couple of gentlemen turned away one of them asked the other the name of "the comical cuss in the big fur cap, who was making such an exhibition of himself?" The reply was "that is the honorable James A McDougall, United States Senator from California."

Will the Legislature of California ever have the courage to ask this man, who fails to represent either the loyalty or the virtue of the Golden State, to resign?

AN HONEST CONFESSION.—A New York correspondent of a western paper thus graphically describes the condition of the democratic party: "The great struggle is over. We have met the enemy and we are theirs. The democratic planet has sustained a partial eclipse, and the indications are that it will not shine out again with its former brilliancy very soon. We are gone in, stove up, smashed, played out, used up, catawampused—in fact, whipped. Like old mother Earth, we are flattened at the polls."

MILITARY PROMOTIONS.—First Lieutenant W. V. Reinhart, Adjutant, has been commissioned Captain, and ordered to Walla Walla, to take command of company A, (late Capt Harris') First Lieut Frank White, of company C, has received the appointment of Adjutant, vice Reinhart, promoted. 2d Lieut Underwood of company C, has been promoted to First Lieutenancy. All deserved promotions, in the Oregon Cavalry.

John B Gough says he never knew a fast young man to do anything which the biggest fool could not do, and wonders how such a being feels when he goes home at night, and takes off the clothes which have given him so much consequence during the day.

Missouri.—[illegible] United States army [illegible] Adjutant General Thomas [illegible] This may [illegible] It is part of that remarkable policy [illegible] which in Missouri has [illegible] the policy of the National Government and which the President [illegible] The difficulty in Missouri is very simple. It is that the influence of the [illegible] In New York [illegible] against the friends of Governor Seymour [illegible] Missouri [illegible] When the speaker of the House [illegible] declared that he would not submit to the [illegible] election of Vallandigham [illegible] President [illegible] express his thought [illegible] papers calls upon Congress to protect the Government against the Administration [illegible] of Missouri ought to remember that [illegible] this when we are fighting [illegible] puts forth exactly the plea of the [illegible] which takes the ground of the [illegible] rebels the very sympathy they make.

On the other hand no sensible man will forget that the faithful men of Missouri have been [illegible] A few expletives and superlatives may be pardoned them. A stern implacable determination that slavery, the monster that has spawned civil war, shall be ended and forever, [illegible] The Missouri Democrat, the radical organ, says that President Lincoln has made a fatal mistake, but it does not accuse him of [illegible] That we are sure will presently appear. The President, by his declared policy [illegible] with the radical loyal Missourians. A few months more of war will bring him to their side. A few months more [illegible] show him that Mr. Postmaster General Blair is not a wise counselor, and does not represent a Border State policy which at this point of the war is practicable.—Harper's Weekly.

Since the above was written the telegraph has announced that the President has so far modified his previous action in Missouri as to remove General Schofield and has appointed General Rosecrans as his successor. It is expected and to be hoped, that this change has accomplished all that can be desired by the prudent and discreet friends of the Union in that State, and will fully restore harmony and vigor to all measures necessary for the preservation of peace and the extension of liberal and loyal sentiments.

FROM FORT KLAMATH.—The Jacksonville Sentinel of January 2d, has particulars by the military express from Fort Klamath of a sad dening casualty, resulting in the death of Makenze Packard, an honored private in Captain Kelly's company Oregon Cavalry. Deceased, in company with W. Frank Bryant were out on the prairie between the Fort and the mountains, on the evening of the 15th ult. With the approach of night a heavy blinding snow and wind storm set in. The soldiers became bewildered, and after wandering for hours in the snow, Mr Packard became so exhausted that he laid down in the snow, protesting that he could go no further. Bryant kept plodding along until by chance he neared the Fort and attracted the attention of his comrades by hallooing. Arriving there parties set out in search of Packard, but were unsuccessful until the following morning, when he was found in the snow, where he had laid down. Life was so near extinct that he died while being conveyed to the Fort. Deceased enlisted at Canyonville, and was a very worthy man.

COMPLIMENTARY.—Many of our readers remember Capt Russell of the Regular Army, who was stationed in Oregon for several years and was universally esteemed. He went East early in the war, and at first was Colonel of a Massachusetts regiment, which he led in frequent engagements with signal bravery. He has been promoted, and in a recent number of the Troy (N. Y.) Press, we find the following notice:

> Brig Gen David A Russell a Washington county boy, son of that sterling Democrat and patriot Hon David A Russell, is spoken of in the highest terms both by his superior officers and the press correspondents, for his indomitable pluck and bravery in the battle of the 7th inst, at Rappahannock Station. He commanded and led the division making the charge. The bold, skillful manner in which it was conducted, extorted the praise of Generals Meade and Sedgwick. As an indication of the severity of the rebel fire one of Russell's regiments went into the fight with a little more than four hundred men and came out with only 60 fit for duty. We are sorry to learn that Captain S W Russell of Saratoga a relative of the General and upon his staff was severely wounded in the fight. The General was educated at West Point, and is a regular army officer. He is a credit to old Washington.

CRUEL PROPOSITION.—An exchange advises its readers to preserve files of Democratic papers for future reference, and thinks that in a few years "they will be invaluable as proof of a fact that will seem incredible when the country shall have emerged from the dark cloud of rebellion; that any man calling himself an American citizen, much more than an entire party—a party, too, claiming the sole credit of having brought the country to the highest pinnacle of prosperity, power and fame; a party invoking the names of Jefferson and Jackson—should, at the moment of imminent peril, when the question was salvation or ruin, have adopted the incendiary's part, and sought the destruction of the entire fabric. If you keep a scrap book cut out and preserve the list of delegates and candidates, the proceedings of their conventions, their platforms, their speeches, paste in their editorials, their news items, their jokes—anything in fact from any Peace Democratic paper published anywhere, and it matters not which side up you place them—the unmistakable stamp of treason pervades them all. In the days of cooler thought that will come by and by these sketches will horrify their painters and turn to specters that will not down at their bidding."

JARRING STORIES.—The Ute has the following yarns relative to earthquakes:

> We confess to our admiration for a [illegible] of expression, but cannot repress our contempt for anything which partakes of the [illegible] Our readers can then [illegible] feelings when we were listening to the following harangue on the earthquake question:
>
> Brown—That was what I call a high old shock! Did you ever feel a heavier one?
> Jones—Heavens! one heaven! [illegible] Why, when I lived in Lima, the people were accustomed to having their houses [illegible] that they thought it was unhealthy to live in one more than three months, and if an earthquake did not finish it by that time they made it a rule to blow it up with gunpowder [illegible] If twenty-four hours passed without an earthquake, the only way they could quiet their nerves so as to get a nap was to go and take a shock from a galvanic battery.

REMARKABLE SPEECH OF ROBERT TOOMBS IN THE GEORGIA HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES—COMPLAINT [illegible] THE CONFEDERATE GOVERNMENT—DEPRECIATION OF THE CURRENCY.—The Washington Intelligencer of November 17th [illegible] speech of Robert Toombs late rebel Secretary of State as delivered in the Hall of Representatives of Georgia, November [illegible]. It is as follows:

[illegible]

Then fellow citizens what are you to do in these trying times? You have been sent here to legislate for the good of the people. You have clothed your President with extraordinary but necessary powers for the prosecution of this war for independence. Support him therefore with every legitimate means in your power to the utmost in all the exercise of his rightful powers. At the same time jealously watch the least encroachment upon public liberty. Let us remember that the President down to the lowest magistrate in the land are but the servants of the people and not their masters, and therefore a check should be imposed on all unconstitutional measures. You need not fear that your Executive will not be strong enough. He has control of [illegible] millions per annum. Congress has invested him with the power of appointment over the army and civil appointments, including the power of exemption from military service, which reaches nearly every family in the republic. [illegible] It would have been expected of me that I would say something of myself on this occasion. [illegible] I have no grievances for the public—not to recall any public duty. [illegible] Make my name forever infamous if you can but save my country. All I ask who do not look to the enemy [illegible] heart and hand for the cause of the country. [illegible] They have given all and sell [illegible] for the cause. Gentlemen realize and accept the grand truth that liberty in its last analysis is but the blood of the brave. [Applause]

AN ELOQUENT APOSTROPHE.—At the ratification mass meeting, held in Virginia City, N. T., on Saturday evening December 19th, after referring to the right of suffrage and paramount allegiance clauses of the Constitution, Henry Edgerton said:

> In the name of my country I [illegible] these sections of the Constitution. In the name of the Constitution of the United States I [illegible] In the name of the [illegible] dead—I pause to pay them tribute. Ye [illegible] with grateful affections and remembrance of your country. [illegible] fathers [illegible] of the [illegible] Your day of vengeance [illegible] slowly but surely [illegible] 100,000 of your surviving countrymen [illegible] the north and west and the [illegible] immortal deeds [illegible] Your genius and that of America shall [illegible] banner [illegible] heroes [illegible] earth [illegible] [Applause]

First Hebrew Benevolent Association.—A meeting of the Society will be held on Sunday the 10th inst at 2 P M in the Bell Street School House. Members will please attend. MORITZ WALTER, Sec.

Letter from Eugene City

EUGENE CITY, Jan 5, 1864

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Your correspondent, with becoming regard for the wants of your readers, seated himself a few weeks ago to chronicle the arrival at this place of the new steamer Enterprise. George Pease commander, when a sudden thought struck him, that it would look more dignified not to go into ecstasies over her first arrival, but to wait for her second and then calmly state that she was arriving regularly at this port of call.

That second arrival not seeming about to happen, especially as long as the cold weather keeps the river so low, it looks a little now as though I might not get to mention it at all. It is not done pretty soon. Eugene City took a little stock in the boat, with a view to securing its regular arrival here during the freshets, is taken thoughtfully of its late ownership of a boat adapted to the nature of the upper river will ever do it. When Portland gets the bar out of the Willamette, and gets a little leisure she must lend it to her interest to put a suitable boat permanently on this route. The farther she extends her trade the better, and I have you never heard of Yaquina Bay.

The telegraph poles and wires are up in town—waiting for the north and south and remaining very earnest out marching on.

Your new contemporary the Daily Union has been enterprising enough to start in specimen numbers up this way, but we carry full sail heavy with Went an buy to trim ship or shorten your sail you sell more or will you weather it through?

Town improvements are talked of some what—two or three bricks in serious contemplation—while several sidewalks are an actual fact already.

What means the letting of the mails on the daily route by subdivided sections—for example one route from Portland to Corvallis and one from Corvallis to Oakland? Has the California Stage Company no chance to get the contract for the next four years, unless they underbid some irresponsible owner of some broken down Cayuse pack train, or do they intend to give up the route altogether? Oregon can ill afford to let them off, but may be they can't see it. Please tell the people some way to express their views on the subject, for undoubtedly the sentiment in Oregon is almost unanimous that the Company which has lost largely on the present contract ought to have it a second term, new con at something like remunerative rates. Of what possible use pray, would your Daily be to your subscribers here without a daily mail to say nothing of those other Dailies and Daylies that your enterprising town produces.

SALE OF DOUGLAS' ESTATE.—The property of the late Senator Douglas, situated at Cottage Grove, was sold on a mortgage foreclosure on Saturday last. This property embraces about sixty acres in extent joining a portion of the seventy acre tract known as the Douglas property and "Oakenwald," bounded on the east by Lake Michigan, on the west by Douglas avenue on the north by Cook Place, and on the south by Douglas Place, the old city limits. Cottage Grove avenue runs through the middle of the tract, and about in the center are the five acres donated by Senator Douglas to the University of Chicago and now occupied by that institution. The tract covers six blocks proper, besides the three divisions of Oakenwald in the southern most of which lie the remains of the lamented Douglas. A portion of the property was mortgaged in 1859, for the sum of $30,000, the instrument bearing date July 7th. On the 12th of April following the mortgage was renewed and additional security given, covering the whole of the property. About the same time an additional sum of $10 000 was granted a third mortgage being given. The principal and interest were unpaid, the total indebtedness amounting to $86,963 at the time the decree was granted. The property was sold in single lots, James R. Smith, the mortgagee, being the principal purchaser. The prices paid of course fell far below the real value. The whole amount paid for the tract of sixty acres was $83,160, or about $803 less than the amount needed to satisfy the mortgage. The average was $1,386 per acre. The property was sold subject to redemption within 15 months, at an increase on the purchase money of ten per cent.—Chicago Times, Dec 1st.

DIED:

In Schenectady N. Y., JOHN N. BANKER Esq., formerly a resident of Oregon City.

This announcement will grieve the hearts of many friends who knew and highly esteemed Mr. Banker during his residence on this coast. He was a man of unsullied integrity, of a generous and cordial temperament, and eminently faithful in every relation of life. Endowed with fine talents and having great professional industry, he seemed sure to attain high rank as a lawyer, but the seeds of consumption developed themselves almost in the morning, and he went to his native State to die long before his sun had reached its meridian.

The first medical men of the age agree with us that most cases of any extent can be cured without using such medicines as will act directly upon the blood. Why most medical men have failed to cure chronic diseases is to be accounted for by the medicines used have not been such as will act beneficially on the blood.
The many thousands of bottles which have been used by the public, and the many gallons and barrels supplied to the physicians, warrant us in saying that the last two years we have been more successful with our Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup in curing hopeless cases of chronic diseases than have any other remedies in the hands of this class, or before the public.

CITY.

THE MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

Money Market

New York Gold Quotations [illegible]
San Francisco Legal Tender rates [illegible]

TO OUR CITY SUBSCRIBERS.—We hope that in the case of any of our subscribers failing to get their paper as usual they will inform us of the fact at once. Mr. M. M. SMITH will, hereafter serve the route south of Alder street and Mr. J. [illegible] north of the same line. Not having been furnished with a complete list of our city subscribers by our late carrier, they may find it difficult at once to meet the wants of all our old patrons.

NOTICE TO CITY PATRONS.—Mr. L. M. Parrish, having voluntarily relinquished his connection with the OREGONIAN as carrier, is no longer authorized to collect or receipt for any moneys due this office.

THE COUNTY COURT HOUSE.—Under the head of "To Architects and Builders," an advertisement will be found in another column, calling for "plans and specifications for a building to be used as a Court House for Multnomah County, and to contain rooms and offices for the several county officers." Although the dimensions, material and cost of the proposed edifice are not stated, it is fair to presume that the admirable location of the block upon which it is to be constructed, and which has been quite recently purchased for the express purpose, will guarantee the permanent use of any structure now erected by the County officials and Courts. We hope the popular custom on this coast of putting up buildings as if they were to be eternally renewed next year will find an exception in this particular case, and a Court House built which may still be regarded as an ornament to the Public Square twenty years hence. The appropriation of basement stories to jail purposes, savors too much of "temporary necessity" to be compatible with the dignity of one of the most promising and aspiring States of the Union. When the space absolutely required for furnaces to heat the stories above, with a reasonable store of fuel on hand, the use of four substantial vaults or safes which should have their openings in the rooms of the different county departments, and the other conveniences indispensable in the basement of a public edifice is even economically occupied, but little room will be found to convert into cells and their inevitable accessories for cooking, washing, officers' rooms, &c. And then the disagreeable odors which cannot be separated from the proximity of subterranean cells would permeate and taint the whole building, oppressing the souls of its inmates, when the atmosphere and sunlight should be real and truthful types of administrative justice. Beside a County Court room, there will, we suppose, be required commodious chambers, one grand and at least two petit jury rooms, three rooms for different departments of the Clerk's office, and one each for Treasurer, Sheriff, Assessor and Collector.

SEEING THE ELEPHANT.—A very respectable social party not a thousand miles from this city, a short time since, went in for a good time generally, took a "horn all round," and after seeing the "elephant," concluded to separate and depart for their respective domiciles. One went home without his overcoat, not believing that he did n't have any when he started. The missing garment was subsequently traced to the property of a "rising star" and recovered. One gentleman was blessed with his own neck-tie, until he came near parting forever with his vocal powers owing to the high social position of the party, and other circumstances of the case we presume the matter will never come before legal tribunals.

THE GAY SEASON.—Scarce an evening passes at this season of the year when the people of our city are not enjoying the pleasures of one or more gatherings, public or private. Sewing societies, church socials, balls, parties and fairs, beside the innumerable entertainments afforded by private hospitality to select circles of friends vitalize our social atmosphere, and regulate the safety-valve of good feeling and holiday cheer.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY FOR BUYING BOOKS.—The finest opportunity for purchasing Gift and Sabbath School Books ever afforded the people of Oregon is now offered by Rev. G. H. Atkinson, at Hurgren & Shindler's Furniture Warerooms, Holmes' building, First street. No more appropriate gifts, especially for our youth, could be selected, and while they can be purchased at Boston retail prices, the money thus expended becomes a lever for the accomplishment of an inconceivable amount of good in the hands of the American Tract and Boston Sabbath School Societies, for whom they are sold. Read the advertisement in another column, and call, examine and purchase something that will entertain and instruct the boys and girls.

The bark Industry, which started away day before yesterday, returned yesterday in tow of the steamer Vancouver and will complete her loading to day. She has room for about 1500 additional boxes apples, which will make her total cargo 9,000 boxes. A chance is thus offered some merchant to put his apples where they won't freeze. The bark returned on account of the Columbia being frozen over, and will go to sea the first chance.

SNOW STORM.—Last night gave decided indications of "quite a spell o' weather." Snow commenced falling before dark, and continued when we went to press. Although it was quite moderate during the afternoon, the mercury at seven o'clock stood at 22°. No better basis could be had for capital sleighing than the frozen ground which has now donned the white robe.

TRANSPORTATION FACILITATED.—The teamsters who were prepared beforehand with sleds and bells, turned out gaily, and glided smoothly and easily along with their loads. A few of the horses attached to drays had strings of bells up on their necks, which they shook as if to enjoy the tinkling peals. Pleasure sleighs were not so numerous as they will be matters to day.

TELEGRAPH INSTRUMENTS.—Advices were some time since received here that the instruments for use at the several stations on the Oregon Telegraph Line, were to be shipped on the last steamer. Whether they have come to hand amongst the freight received yesterday we did not learn.

THE RULING PASSION.—Notwithstanding two inches of snow fell night before last the early morning yesterday found a party of indomitable fun lovers busily engaged in clearing ice paths upon the lake where quite a number enjoyed themselves most of the day.

THE Hunt was run aground in the slough, yesterday morning, in dodging floating cakes of ice, while coming up with freight from the Pacific. The steamer Express was soon alongside and took off part of her cargo when she floated all right, and they came up to the city and landed nearly at the same time.

SHIPMENT OF TREASURE.—Wells, Fargo & Co sent to San Francisco per steamer Pacific, about $130,000 yesterday. This included the treasure list of Allen & Lewis, Agents, who transmitted their funds by Express.

ICE IN THE COLUMBIA.—We understand that a body of strong ice, extending for miles, has formed in the Columbia, and is increasing steadily. The Willamette is free from ice.

THE steamers Hunt and Express arrived at Couch's wharf from the Pacific at about two o'clock, P. M., yesterday, bringing about 200 tons of freight.

THE PACIFIC sailed from St Helens for San Francisco at 4 o'clock, yesterday morning, carrying away about 100 passengers and 1,300 boxes apples.

THE STEAMER SURPRISE will be completed and ready to commence running next week.

To The Public.

I WOULD HEREBY CALL THE ATTENtion of the public to the fact that on the first of May 1864 they will be called upon by the United States Assessors for a statement of Income for the year 1863, and as ... it would be well for every one to make up their accounts ... while every thing is fresh in memory, and be ready to give statement when called upon by the Assessor.

Under the ruling of the Commissioner of Internal revenue persons can only deduct expenses for repairs etc. from the amount received from the same property on which such expenditure have been made. For instance a person receiving ... for rents he can use of that amount all that is necessary to repair such property from which rents were derived; the same rule applies to steam boats, saw mills and other like property. But all moneys derived from interest on notes, Bonds, Mortgages ... from dividends ... although a portion ... expended in repairing buildings steamboats ...

... persons will prepare their accounts and statements showing amount received and the source from whence derived ... amount expended and for what purpose then with the forms ... which will be furnished them by the Assessor ...

... please copy.

THE KING'S MISTAKE.—Some of our exchanges have revived the following old but good story.

A number of old politicians, all of whom were seeking office under the government, were seated at a tavern porch talking, when a toper named John D—, a person who is very loquacious when drunk, but exactly the opposite when sober, said if the company had no objection he would tell them a good story. They told him to "fire away," whereupon he spoke as follows:

"A certain King—I don't remember his name—had a philosopher upon whose judgment he always depended. Now it happened that one day the King took it into his head to go a hunting, and after summoning his nobles and making the necessary preparations, he summoned the philosopher and asked him if it would rain. The philosopher told him it would not, and he and his nobles departed.

"While journeying along, they met with a countryman on a jackass. He advised them to return, 'for,' said he, 'it will certainly rain.' They smiled contemptuously upon him and passed on. Before they had gone many miles, however, they had reason to regret not having taken the rustic's advice, as a heavy shower coming on, they were drenched to the skin.

When they had returned to the palace, the king reprimanded the philosopher severely.

"'I met a countryman,' said he, 'and he knows a great deal more than you, for he told me it would rain, whereas you told me it would not.'"

The king then gave him his walking papers, and sent for the countryman, who made his appearance.

"'Tell me,' said the king, 'how you knew it would rain?'

"'I didn't know,' said the rustic, 'my jackass told me.'

"'And how, pray, did he tell you?' asked the king.

"'By pricking up his ears, your majesty,' returned the rustic.

The king sent the countryman away, and procuring the jackass of him, put him (the jackass) in the place the philosopher had filled.

"And here," observed John, looking very wise, "is where the king made a very great mistake."

"How so?" inquired his auditors, eagerly.

"Why, ever since that time," said John, with a grin, "every jackass wants an office."

RELIGIOUS COURTSHIP.—A young gentleman happening to sit at church in a pew adjoining one in which sat a young lady for whom he conceived a sudden and violent passion, was desirous of entering into a courtship on the spot, but the place not suiting a formal declaration, the exigency of the case suggested the following plan:

He politely handed his fair neighbor a Bible, open, with a pin stuck in the following text: second Epistle of John, verse 5th: "And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another."

She returned it, pointing to the second chapter of Ruth, verse 10th: "Then she fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, and said unto him, why have I found grace in thine eyes, seeing that I am a stranger?"

He returned the book, pointing to the 13th verse of the Third Epistle of John: "Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink, but I trust to come unto you, and speak face to face, that our joy may be full."

From the above interview a marriage took place the following week.

FOND OF MEAT.—An English maiden whom we lately heard of, had a decidedly novel reason for refusing to stand in the Scripture relation of wife to a man who sought her hand. He was in all respects eligible, except that he was a vegetarian, and when he proposed, the plucky lass replied: "Oh, go along with you. Do you think that I am going to be flesh of your flesh, and you live on cabbage? Marry a grass widow, man! I am not an animal of your sort!" and off she bounded, leaving him amazed.

A country youth came to town to see his intended wife, and for a long time could think of nothing to say. At last, a great snow falling, he took occasion to tell her that his father's sheep would be all undone. "Well," said he, taking her by the ear, "I'll keep one of them."

"I'm afraid you'll forget me, wife, while I am away," said a brave officer.

"Never fear, my dear, the longer you are away in your country's service the better I shall like you."

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec. 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints.
EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of UTICA, N. Y., writes: "I have used your Pectoral myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, Miss., Feb. [illegible]

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your Pectoral is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill, and commend your medicine to our people.
HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief; finally tried your Pectoral by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.
HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, March 5, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well.
Yours, with gratitude and regard,
ORLANDO SHELBY, OF SHELBYVILLE.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all round us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the everyday complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are, at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for their use, and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.
